

Rob Carson

Rob has worked with Manistee County since 2011. Previously working as a County Planner in Lincoln County, North Carolina. He studied Planning at Michigan State University, where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Urban & Regional Planning, followed by a masters in Land Use & Environmental Planning with a focus on Geographic Information Systems. Rob enjoys the challenge of community consensus building and strives to develop collaborative plans that will direct policy to meet the needs of our residents, supports economic development and garners support and protection for our natural resources. Outside of the planning office, Rob enjoys spending time with his wife and children enjoying all that Manistee County has to offer; from our vast coastline and freshwater lakes to our inland forests and rivers and each of the communities found throughout. The four seasons of Norther Michigan offer an array of activities that are enjoyed such as beach combing, swimming, hiking, fishing, hunting and snowboarding.
