

Erin King

Erin is a social worker by training; MSW from the University of Michigan. She has 16 years experience in the community mental health service program system and six years with Centra Wellness Network; with two years in her current position.